from Quinn Evans

With the last Amtrak train departing Michigan Central Station in 1988, the historic structure stood abandoned for 30 years before Ford Motor Company purchased the building in 2018. Learn about its extraordinary transformation process and how adaptive reuse of the historic station connects Detroit's past to its promising future.

Angela Wyrembelski is a Senior Associate and architect with Quinn Evans, Detroit office. A passionate advocate for historic preservation, she leads Quinn Evans Living Practice Area; focusing on the transformation of buildings that touch our daily lives.
